Report on One Day Workshop on Data Analysis using Excel

Date:30/06/22

Venue: Lab 3

Microsoft Excel is an important tool for data analysis. It helps to assess situations and make better decisions. Microsoft Excel offers number of features to use and analyze data. Of its hundreds of distinct functions, many of them enable users to sort, calculate, qualify, and even visualize data .This course is designed to provide the knowledge for using Excel spreadsheets for Data Analysis to the students of college to enhance their technical and research skills. A one day workshop was conducted on Computer Lab 3 and around 102 students of various streams like Computer Science, Information Technology, Commerce, Accounting & Finance, Banking and Insurance etc. attended on 30th June 2022 from 8 am to 10am . The resource person was Dr Shilpa A Hatewar from Computer Science and Information Technology Department. Hands on training was given to students by providing multiple assignments on the topics covered. The registration google form was circulated through what'up group along with the brochure. The registration form link was provided in the brochure and later the feedback form was also circulated.

The Outline of Workshop

- Research Design
- Hypothesis Formulation
- Basics of Excel
- Histogram and Charts
